

Suicide Letter

I'm going to write a suicide letter.
Stick it on the dashboard of my car.
I'll address it to "Whom it may concern."
You know who you are."

I'll write how cruel this world is,
About my deprived childhood.
I'll write how great I could have been.
If they only understood.

Chorus:

So if I leave this world by some cruel accident.
Everybody will think of me,
And wonder why I went.

I'll write about my lost loves,
How I tried to be so true.
I'll talk of my ten broken hearts.
You know I died for you.

I'll claim I did it for ten causes.
Everyone will then claim me.
They'll see my paintings, read my books,
Recite my poetry.

Chorus:

So if I leave this world by some cruel accident.
Everybody will think of me,
And wonder why I went.

Old friends will come from nowhere,
The funeral will be grand.
Everyone will wonder what they could have done.
Finally try to understand.

So someday I might make headlines.
Just for being hit head on.
Better than being buried on the obit page.
When you're gone, you're gone, you're gone.

Chorus:

So if I leave this world by some cruel accident.
Everybody will think of me
And wonder why I went.
