

Everywhere

I see your face, everywhere.
In every cloud, in every crowd I think you're in.
I see your smile, everywhere.
On every rose that grows in my garden.

I see your arms, everywhere.
Reaching out from every tree.
I see your eyes, everywhere.
Then I realize they're closed to me.

Refrain:

I keep making a fool of myself
Calling on people from behind

I don't mind making a fool of myself,
Cause it's you I hope to find.

I see your hair everywhere
Every hour, every here, every there.
I see the brown coat that you wear.
I wish you were here instead of everywhere.