

Punctuation

Dog's claws to pause; tiny spots to stop,
We link with a claw and a spot on top.
Canes and spots to query; bats and spots to shout.
Flying hangnails for leaving letters out.

Chorus:

My writing might be bad, but I make it look great,
When I punctuate, when I punctuate.

To have a conversation, cat's whiskers if you please,
Slashes and dashes and smiling parenthesis.
And if you want your teacher to think you know a lot,
Always end your essays with a dot, dot, dot.

Chorus:

Music:

During Writers Workshop; we write non-stop.
We work for an hour, but we never get to shop.
I have lots of time to make my words look better,
So I add punctuation between every letter.
